Descrição

The Lalor Foundation (<http://lalorfound.org/>) was incorporated in Delaware in 1935 under bequests from members of the Lalor family. One of the foundation's major objectives has been to give assistance and encouragement to capable investigators embarking on teaching and research careers in universities and colleges.

The Postdoctoral Research Fellowship (<https://lalorfound.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/09/2022-Fellowship-Online-Guide.pdf>) supports promising new researchers in establishing scientific and teaching careers. The mission of the Program is to support these researchers early in their work so that they can become independently funded in the field of mammalian reproductive biology as related to the regulation of fertility.
